A LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT AND CHAIRMAN

Susan Stockton
President

Mike Weller
Chairman

It is hard to believe it has been five years since the Fox Cities Performing Arts Center first opened its doors to the community. As we take a moment to look back on those early performances in November 2002, we remember the anticipation, excitement and tremendous support we felt from the Fox Cities community. Today, having completed our 2007/08 season, we continue to experience the same feelings of excitement and support.

We believe in our mission to serve as a gathering place for the community and as we have grown during the years so have our patrons and supporters. In this Report to the Community we will not only celebrate the major milestones from the 2007/08 season, but we take time to highlight events from our first five years as part of the Fox Cities community.

CONNECTING THE COMMUNITY

▲ American Heart Association's Go Red for Women Luncheon on stage in Thrivent Financial Hall.

The Center is the place people want to be! In this simple statement lies the vision that drives the Fox Cities Performing Arts Center. To us that means a group of friends gathering together for a live performance in Thrivent Financial Hall, managers connecting at a business meeting in the Founders Room and students sharing a dance at their high school prom in the main lobby.

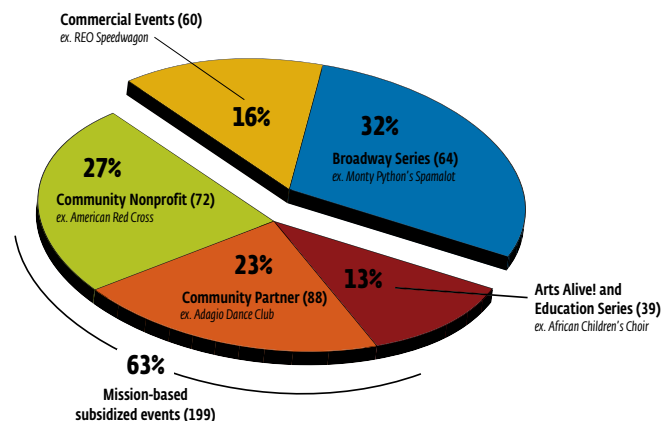

In the 2007/08 season the Center hosted 104 community use events. These events were as diverse as the people who attended them. From the Go Red Luncheon benefitting the American Heart Association to the Fox Valley Technical College graduation, it is likely that you or someone you know has visited the Center for a special event this season. What you may not know is the Center raises money so that we can offer greatly reduced facility use fees to community and nonprofit groups, therefore, encouraging these groups to come back year after year.

In the 2007/08 season 37 area nonprofit organizations took advantage of the reduced facility fees and utilized the Center for their special event. In its fourth year, P.A.R.T.Y. (Prevent Alcohol and Risk-Related Trauma in Youth) sponsored by the Appleton Medical Center and Theda Clark Medical Center foundations, taught 4,383 area students about the risks of alcohol and substance abuse.

In addition to providing an affordable facility, the Center proudly gives back to the community through donation and scholarship programs. In the 2007/08 season the Center donated a total of 358 tickets at a value of $9,252 for Boldt Arts Alive! and other Center-presented performances helping other local nonprofit organizations raise funds that support and enrich their programs. The Center also awarded 1,371 scholarship tickets for disadvantaged students and adults at a value of $9,526 for the Thrivent Financial for Lutherans Education and Boldt Arts Alive! Series. Through the generous support of the John and Sally Mielke Family Fund and the Jan Bax Family Foundation the total number of tickets awarded through scholarship was more than five times greater than in years past.

about the African Children's Choir preshow discussion

ENGAGING THE COMMUNITY

At the Fox Cities Performing Arts Center we are the place where the arts come alive. This statement has never been more true as in the 2007/08 season. This past season 63 percent of Center-presented events included a Menasha Corporation Community Engagement Activity, each designed to engage patrons beyond the stage performance. These community engagement activities provided more than 15,000 students and adults with a deeper understanding of the performance while simultaneously creating a stronger commitment to the arts and the Center.

This season's Menasha Corporation Community Engagement Activities ranged from insightful preshow discussions, such as with Nicole Larson from the American Indian Center before the Kevin Locke Native Dance Ensemble performance, to interactive workshops like the STOMP drum circle, presented by the Oshkosh

Rhythm Institute. We took engagement activities into the community by partnering with area businesses and organizations. In January, more than 200 special occasion dresses were donated when we partnered with Goodwill Industries of North Central Wisconsin Inc. for The Wedding Singer. YMCA dance students showed their school spirit while learning the choreography from Disney's High School Musical led by cast members from the show during Appleton YMCA's Arts and Humanities Week.

The Center also partnered with Barnes & Noble Booksellers on two occasions. Once for Disney's High School Musical, which included cheerleading lessons from the Fox Valley Stars, and again in the spring with a member of Mirror Image Dance Academy reading Swan Lake.

of performances of The Tempest presented by London's AandBC Theatre Company. The Tempest was performed in some exciting and nontraditional places, including a field in Berlin and the Oneida Nation Pow Wow Grounds at the Norbert Hill Center. The Tempest was performed onstage at the Center, which also hosted other Shakespeare on the Fox performances including

ENRICHING OUR COMMUNITY

Engaging children in the arts can never start too early. Given the decreasing presence of the arts in our schools, the Fox Cities Performing Arts Center is even more committed to ensuring that area students from pre-kindergarten through 12th grade have the opportunity to experience the performing arts both through observation and participation. The Center serves as northeast Wisconsin's largest classroom for the performing arts, by reaching 24,086 students and educators this past season from 242 schools and home schools ranging from Central Wisconsin to the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

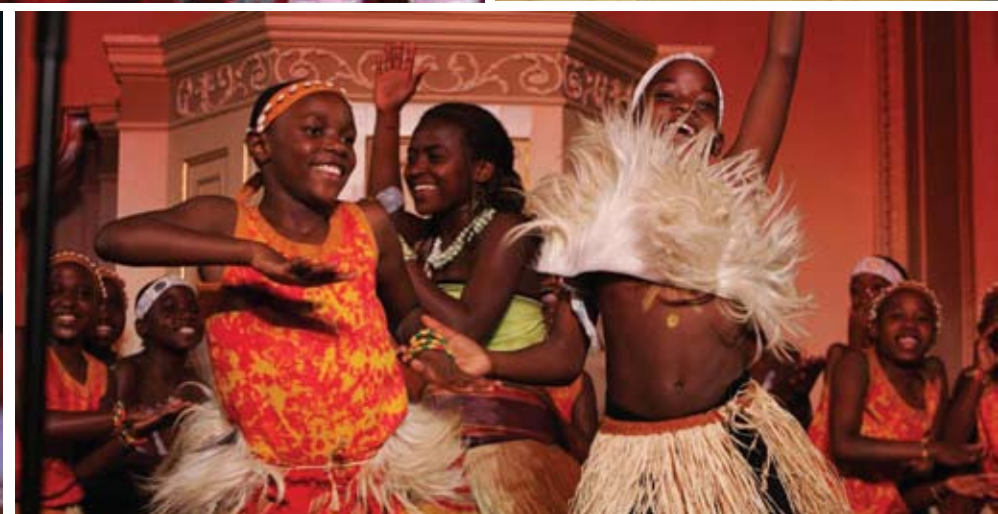

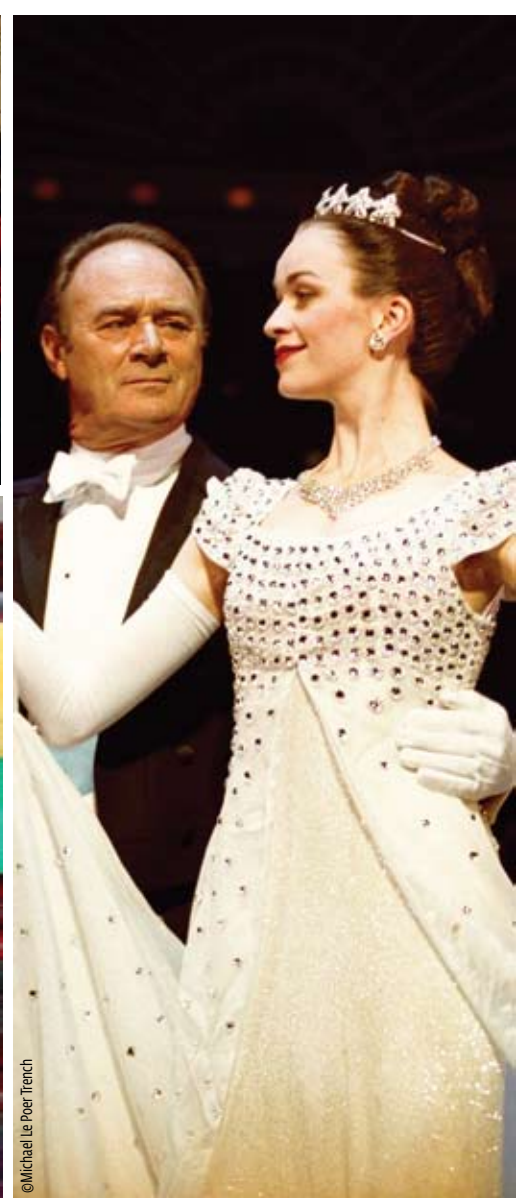

Some notable highlights from the 2007/08 season included local student participation both on and off the main stage. High school students from Appleton West, Oshkosh West and Xavier performed onstage in the Fourth Annual Fox Cities Choral Music Festival and 24 theater students from Xavier High School appeared in eight performances of Disney's High School Musical when it played the Center in November. The Page-to-Stage writing challenge and the Performing Arts Touch the Hearts of Students (PATHS) program involved students beyond just attending a performance. Students in these programs were challenged to take what they observed on stage throughout the year and make connections to real world situations.

We continued to provide a window to world culture through the Boldt Arts Alive! series featuring productions that took patrons from Argentina to Africa. Shows such as Tango Buenos Aires turned up the heat, while others like the Lawrence University co-presented performance of Branford Marsalis delivered cool jazz. Family favorites such as the Nebraska Theatre Caravan's A Christmas Carol and the African Children's Choir brought patrons from all generations together.

The 2007/08 Report to the Community would not be complete without discussing the world-class Broadway productions. From familiar classics such as My Fair Lady and White Christmas to quirky new musicals such as The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee and Monty Python's Spamalot our fifth anniversary season was filled with marquee Broadway shows!

COMMUNITY INVESTMENT

At the Fox Cities Performing Arts Center it is our mission to present the finest cultural and educational programming in northeast Wisconsin allowing friends, families and neighbors to share in the excitement of the arts. It is also our mission to serve as a gathering place for audiences from the Fox Cities and beyond and enrich the quality of life in our community. While it is our mission to serve the Fox Cities community, our success would not be possible without the generous contributions from the community in which we serve.

The success and sustainability of the Center is built upon four critical revenue pillars. These pillars include strong earned income from such sources as ticket sales and concessions, a stable and expanding base of annual community support, cash reserves and long-term stability from the Future Fund campaign.

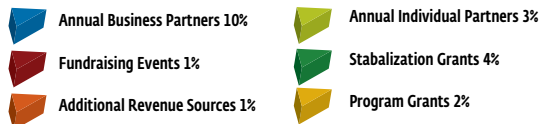

In the 2007/08 season 755 Annual Partners consisting of businesses and individuals made an investment in the Center totaling $1,429,309.

The growth in our Annual Partner base enables the Center to fulfill its mission by providing funds needed to support and sustain our mission-based programming. In the performing arts industry, the Center is recognized as a leader in this area. In the 2007/08 season, 75 percent of all expenditures went toward mission-based programs and activities. According to the most recent survey conducted by the Performing Arts Research Coalition, the Center's budgeted amount of expenditures on mission-focused programs exceeds the national average for performing arts centers by 16 percent.

Annual Partner Growth

Not all contributions from the Fox Cities community come in the form of monetary gifts. Many individuals choose to donate to the Center by volunteering their time and support in many areas of operations from night-of-show related activities to administrative tasks. Currently the Center has 600 volunteers who contributed more than 21,362 hours in the 2007/08 season. This translates to a value of more than $358,000.* Our success would not be possible without the generosity of these dedicated volunteers!

FIVE YEARS OF THE P.A.C.

For five great seasons the mission of the Fox Cities Performing Arts Center has been coming to life. Reaching this anniversary provides an opportunity to reflect on accomplishments and analyze trends.

Since opening, the Center has hosted 13 Wisconsin premieres of Broadway touring titles including Disney's The Lion King and High School Musical, The Producers, a Mel Brooks musical and Movin' Out, an energetic show set to the songs of Billy Joel. The stage at the Fox Cities Performing Arts Center has been graced by such greats as Tony Bennett, Mikhail Gorbachev, Bill Cosby, Richard Chamberlain, Richard Thomas and Garrison Keillor just to name a few. On the cultural front, our Boldt Arts Alive! performances have provided an opportunity for people of our community to truly experience the world culture with performances from Europe, Russia, China, Africa, Indonesia and Argentina.

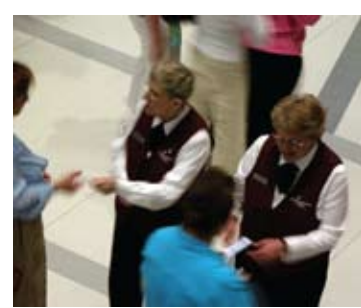

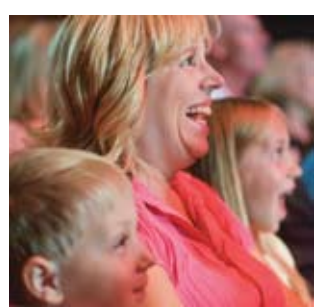

During our fifth anniversary season the Center also celebrated selling more than one million tickets. In our first five full seasons, 2,164 events have taken place within our facility. We have helped bring area students classroom studies to life by welcoming more than 121,000 students to our Thrivent Financial for Lutherans Education Series events.

Of course, the staff and board of the Fox Cities Performing Arts Center could not accomplish all this without the incredible support of the community. The Center was built by a community who dreamed of a place where everyone could gather and connect through the powerful experience of the arts. And the dream continues to come true for so many through your ticket purchase, annual financial commitment and volunteer hours. In five years our annual partner support has grown by an average of 20 percent each year. And our nearly 600 volunteers have contributed more than 110,000 hours of their time.

The Fox Cities Performing Arts Center is having a positive impact on the quality of life in the Fox Cities through our artistic programming. Through the $14.3 million economic activity the Center generates in our local community each year, we are helping to bring jobs and economic vitality to the area.

We believe that the community has clearly indicated their belief in the mission of the Fox Cities Performing Arts Center. We will continue to provide an opportunity for everyone to experience their Fox Cities Performing Arts Center by providing a venue for a wide variety of activities.
